Submission- Irradiation as a phytosanitary measure for all fresh fruit and vegetables

Categories:

[REDACTED]

I am writing to oppose to project A1193, the project Irradiation as a phytosanitary measure for all fresh fruit and vegetables.

I am a mother with small children, who are sensitive to food items, food additives. It affects their gut health, immunity. I am opposed to the changes, our fresh Australian food to be irradiated. I always focus on buying fresh, untampered with organic, biodynamic, and regeneratively farmed produce to provide natural food for my family.

I and my family members strongly disagree about changes proposed.

I have learned about this issues only today and I would like to extend this submission to give an opportunity to other members of my community, Australian citizens, residents to decide about future of their food, their family health.

Regards
