Only registered business with import license should be allowed to import and-sell kava to shops and public, so that product traceability can be done if anyone gets sick.

Kava should be strictly sold in pre pack sealed pack with full information on labels.

Personal use kava public bring in the country should be 4kg only as kava is available in New Zealand at every shop.

Also people should not be allowed to bring kava to New Zealand as personal use and sell from home on black market,and not paying tax.

Anyone import kava should have NZQA food safety certificate .

Also kava bar that prepares kava with water in-house must have strict food safety rules like processed food is done.

Kava should not be sold in bottles.

It's a abuse of traditional drink.
